Class Will

We, the class of 1950, being of unsound minds and weak bodies (you don't really believe it, do you?) with hope of living to a ripe old age do hereby make, publish, and declare our last will and testament.

To the faculty we offer our congratulations for surviving our twelve years of school. We also wish to thank them for their patience and guidance they have shown us since we have attended Haviland-Scott School.

The Senior girls wish to will their ability to get out of gym class to anyone who can think up enough good excuses to get by with it.

Mary Lou Akom wills her bookkeeping book back to Brick. Maybe he can find someone else dumb enough to use it.

Ray Sinn wills his ability to play basketball to Gene Campbell. (Ray must be getting sentimental giving away his only asset.)

Emma Lou Vance wills her ability to make the Honor Roll in her Senior year to Betty Cavinder. Work hard, Betty.

Art Carter wills one of his favorite lines to Lyle Stoller to go with the rest of his collection of willed items. Lyle should be quite a Romeo since Art did all right with it.

Erma Lehman wills her ability to talk in third period study hall and get by with it to Eleanor Haaglin. You have a good start, Eleanor.

Fred Hartwig wills his ability to sleep in shop class and still get A's to Harold Wenniger. (It seems that Harold already has a good start.)

Marcia Sperry wills her ability to blow a trombone to Wilma McAdams. You seem to have enough wind, Wilma.

Doyle Breedlove wills his typewriter to anyone who thinks he can hold it down for two years straight in typing I.

Laura Dene Williamson wills her ability to receive the old maid part in both the Junior and Senior Play and still get a ring to Louise Gudakunst.

Class Prophecy

While reclining in my easy chair after supper (my daily habit), I decide to read my favorite daily paper, the "Haviland Chronicle". A name in the headlines looks familiar. Then, I recall my classmates of fifteen years ago at dear old Haviland-Scott. The name is Fred (Drew Pearson) Hartwig. He is predicting that Ray Sinn will be fired as Secretary of State because Ray refuses to support long skirts, the newest thing in fashion.

Doyle Breedlove and his helper Einstein have received another medal. This time, he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for having averted war with Russia. He promoted the marriage of the new Premier of Russia and Marcia Sperry, the first woman Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. She is rapidly converting him to the American way of life.

As I turn to the society page, I see that the celebrated soprano, Laura Dene Williamson, is giving a concert to honor the King and Queen of England. (For those who are interested, the life story and why Laura Dene chose career before marriage will be in the next publication of Life.)

Mary Lou Akom has done it again! The whole sports page is devoted to her. She has won the women's singles championship for the fourth straight year. It comes as no surprise as I remember her great athletic ability at Haviland-Scott.

Emma Lou Vance is involved in a big case before the Supreme Court. Famous resorts claim that she is violating the Anti-trust laws and is ruining their business. Emma Lou has invented a sun tan fluid from reindeer hoofs. By using this, a sun tan may be prepared by merely rubbing it on. Emma Lou gets the hoofs from her 3,000 acre Reindeer Ranch in the Antarctic.

Erma Lehman is now curator of a zoo. She is teaching school at HAVILAND-SCOTT. If she does as well running the zoo as she did as a member of the zoo, the position will be secure.

I must retire now and get my allotted hours of sleep. I am in very rigid training to keep my position with the Yankees. Water boys are not in great demand and I, Art, the water carrier, have very tough competition.

History

How time does fly! It seems as if it were only yesterday that we were freshmen looking forward to our Senior year.

In our freshman year, we chose the following officers: Mr. Coffelt, advisor; Erma Lehman, president; Art Carter, vice-president; Laura Dene Williamson, secretary; Carrie Hartwig, treasurer. That year we had fifteen members. We asked Mrs. Ensign to guide us through our Sophomore year. She accepted and we chose Ray Sinn for president, Fred Hartwig for vice-president, and Erma Lehman for secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Ensign agreed to be our sponsor again in our Junior year. This was a big year for us with the Junior Class Play, the Junior-Senior Trip, and many other events. Ray Sinn was again our president. Carrie Harwig was vice-president, and Erma Lehman was secretary-treasurer. Our Senior year was an even more important year. Besides this being our last year with all the Senior activities, we decided to publish an annual. This year our class consisted of nine members. Our sponsor for the Senior year was Mrs. Ensign with Ray Sinn as president, Emma Lou Vance as vice president, and Mary Lou Akom as secretary-treasurer.

Mixed Chorus

Through united effort, love of good music and plain hard work, our Mixed Chorus has set a standard of which each member can be proud.

Especially enjoyed this year were the Christmas programs given in collaboration with the Payne High School band, the Institute, and another County-wide Choral Festival.

"If you approach one ideal, look for another" is our motto.

The Deacon, a widower from Sorgum Center, State O' West Virginny comes to his nephew's home for a visit. The Deacon is smitten by the charms of Miss Philipeny Popover and proposes marriage. Trixie Coleman plays many pranks on the Deacon and Miss Popover. Amos, his nephew, wants to marry Rose Raliegh, who is a mystery to the village. When she consents, the town learns that she is already married to Rawden Crawley, a convict who is betrothed to Emily Dale. Yennie Yensen provides a great deal of humor by bidding for Deuteronomy Jones, a country product.

The play takes place in the college dining hall, known as the Poison Pot, just a few days before the Junior Prom. Oggy gives Pinky and Joe some neutralization pills which they in turn give to their biology professor for aspirins. The neutralization pills have a very strange effect on the professor and the others who happen to get some mixed in their food at the Poison Pot. The boys are expelled from college and their girl friends will have nothing to do with them. The story of the play is the troubles the boys have in their efforts to raise money to have an orchestra, to get permission to go back to their classes, to keep Toasty from being run out of town by the health department, and to win their girl friends back.

Class Trip

The classes of '49 and '50, accompanied by their advisors, left Haviland by bus May 23, 1949. The next evening, they reached Washington, D. C. via the Pennsylvania Turnpike and Gettysburg. Three enjoyable days were spent touring the Nation's Capitol and surrounding points of interest. The group returned home, May 27, tired but happy for the opportunity that was theirs for learning more about Washington, D. C., and for becoming better acquainted with their fellow classmates. The trip was sponsored by the class of '50.

G. A. A.

All the girls in high school participating in the Physical Education program are eligible to belong to the G.A.A. This organization attempts to encourage an interest in Athletics and general recreation. Last fall the G.A.A. had an organization meeting and elected the following officers:

Betty Lou Finnegan.....	President
Emma Lou Vance.....	Senior Representative
Jeanne Griffis.....	Junior Representative
Janet Mohr.....	Sophomore Representative
Wilma McAdams.....	Freshman Representative

A picture, which was taken of the G.A.A. for the annual, was lost because of a misunderstanding with the engraver.

Every Monday evening, the swimming pool at the Y.W.C.A. is reserved for those girls who wish to swim, and early in the year the G.A.A. members enjoyed an evening of swimming, eating, and skating at the Y.W.C.A. The G.A.A. members sold tickets, helped serve, and planned program booklets for the Athletic Banquet.

Our Twelve Men

We have a team of twelve men strong
They fight and fight the whole game long.
There's great big Art with his hook shot
And speedy Fred whose game is hot,
Now Junior John is out to win
He's helped a lot by Captain Sinn,
Let's not forget our sturdy Lloyd
Who never seems to be annoyed,
There are three Laukhufs on this team
And they are really on the beam,
Plus Tom and George and Luke and Gene
A better team has ne'er been seen.

Cheerleaders and Managers

We are very proud of the Managers and Cheerleaders. Along with the team, they did their very best. The cheerleaders did their part in making the noise to urge the boys on to victory, and the managers were always "right there" when they were needed. You did a swell job!
